THIRTIETH YEAR NO. 44.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1907.

PRICE $1.00 A YEAR.

Gov. Folk says: "Find out who the saloonkeepers and gamblers are for and then get on the other side." Has Wolford yet been charged as having the support of the drugstore saloonkeeper? Is Wolford not being openly opposed by Ridgway and his followers?

GRAFT CHARGES FULLY SUSTAINED.

For more than a year charges of graft have been placed against some of the village officials. Legal counsel in two or three cities as well as the attorney general's department at Columbus had been consulted on the method of doing business on the part of council and the village board of education.

The gang organ has made every effort possible to cover up the wrong doings and has endeavored to make light of the charges. This was necessary in that the public mind must be diffused of the charges. With the public divided as to the guilt of the parties it would be an easy matter to be returned to office and continue the plundering and protect themselves.

The strongest reason why members of the present council and some of the officials that have been drawing money illegally should be returned is that any other than a gang candidate will expose and prove what has taken place. The fact is Judas Wright dares turn his back over to one who will not attempt to shield him. His graftings are on the books and to hold back this information only means protection to him.

There have been charges filed with the State Bureau of Accounting in Columbus against J. C. Wright, J. H. Andrew and Andrew Jackson. The charges were based on information taken from J. C. Wright's books, he being the present treasurer of the corporation and school district. This department assures us of the guilt of the parties.

The following are only a few of the amounts drawn illegally by Judas Wright during a little over a year: Voucher No. 202, $18.85; 220, $16.00; 180, $12.00; 140, $11.40; 80, $5.80; 66, $36.12; 47, $1.18; 21, $15.83; 2, $14.43. Beside this there are a number of illegal amounts drawn through the school funds. Wright being a bonded officer, the department at Columbus will recover off his bondsmen, if it cannot be made off of him.

Owing to the lack of time and space we will not give the amounts drawn illegally by J. H. Andrew and Andrew Jackson. The former is charged with having taken probably more than has Judas, while Jackson in his school book graft is not far behind.

This information has been in the hands of the Bureau of Accounting for some time and it is hoped that the public mind will be kept from being misled by the gang organ.

It has been the habit of the gangsters to deny charges of this nature, which it stood them in hand to do, knowing that others were next to what was being done with the taxpayers' money. The Herald has had no hesitancy in keeping the wrongdoings exposed, which has accounted for the hysterical actions of Judas and his drugstore following.

A RIDICULOUS LIE.

No sooner had the announcement been made that T. W. St. John and A. H. Creswell, were candidates on the Citizens' ticket for township trustee, than a report was sent out from the saloon drugstore that both of these men were opposed to moving the library into the new building.

The originator of the story had evidently forgotten that Mr. Creswell was a member of the Reformed Presbyterian church, the governing body of the college and library. Finding that the public would not give credence to such a story Mr. Creswell's name was dropped and the report saddled on Mr. St. John, who is a member of the Methodist church.

NEW LIVERY FIRM.

Messrs. Harry and Elmer Waddle have purchased the livery barn belonging to Mr. John Fields. The new firm took charge last night. Both are popular young men and will meet with public favor in their new enterprise. Mr. Fields has been in this business a number of years and will retire owing to his health.

Whom We Delight to Honor

DR. E. C. OGLESBEE.

One of Cedarville's best known citizens is Dr. E. C. Oglesbee, who has been practicing medicine here for a number of years. The Dr. is of a genial disposition and highly respected by all who know him. He served on the Board of Pension Examiners in this county for several years. At present the Dr. is a candidate for member of the Board of Education of this school district. He is eminently qualified for the place and directly interested in educational work.

SHOOTING AFFRAY.

John Robnett, a cement contractor of Xenia, and a man well known here, shot and killed Ed. Brown, colored, shortly after eleven o'clock Saturday night.

There are a number of stories as to how the shooting happened. Brown, in his dying statement, claimed that Robnett owed him $3.75 and it was refused. Brown called at the Robnett home a second time when he was fired upon. He turned and went closer to the house when Robnett fired a second time, which took effect in the stomach.

Robnett claims that Brown called at the house and became abusive in his language and was trying to demand money that was not due him. He returned to the house and was again called out by Brown. This time he took a revolver with him and fired at Brown who ran to the corner of the yard. At this time Robnett claims that Brown attempted to throw at him when he fired again, which took effect and proved fatal.

There were no witnesses other than Robnett's wife and a brother-in-law.

Robnett had his hearing before Mayor Brennan on a charge of second degree murder and was bound over under a bond of $5000, in default of which he was sent to the county jail.

HON. GEORGE LITTLE TO TAKE CANAL TRIP.

Senator E. A. Hafner, of Cincinnati, Representative R. L. Lerach, of Lorain and Representative George Little, of Xenia, accompanied by Messrs. Baldwin, Kirtley and Watkins, of the State Board of Public Works and their chief engineer, Charles E. Perkins, will meet in Cleveland Monday night and start Tuesday morning on a trip over the canal from Cleveland to Dresden, to inspect the improvement work that has been in progress there for nearly two years. Part of the trip will be made by canal boat and part by electric line. It will require three days to complete the inspection. Mr. Little has the credit of doing more than anyone else in the legislature toward saving the canals from being taken out of the hands of the State without just compensation, that is, therefore looked to for advice and counsel as to canal improvement. No better man could be selected to supervise any public improvement.—Gazette.

Through a false report a run was caused on the Dayton Saving Bank & Trust Company last Saturday afternoon. Those who wanted to withdraw were mostly shop workers and girls. The institution is regarded as sound and has plenty of financial backing.

THEATRE NOTES.

The Fairbanks Theatre, Springfield, Ohio, will present on Monday evening, November 4th, the well known and distinguished pianist, De Pachman. For some reason he has attracted much attention from the musical authorities in the East, where his concerts have aroused the utmost enthusiasm. The analysis of his work by the leading Eastern critics holds that his developing powers may some time place him along side of Paderewski. His concert tour this season so far has been a sensational success and it is expected that the music lovers in Springfield and vicinity will greet the opportunity with delight to hear his wonderful rendition on the piano.

The Fairbanks Theatre, Springfield, will offer on Wednesday November 6th, an entertainment productive of as much laughter as any performance now being given on the stage, McIntyre & Heath in "The Ham Tree." This is one of the most effective musical comedies ever brought out. It scored heavily with the public, both by reason of the ability of the stars to furnish continuous incentive to laughter and because of its chorus, which has been accepted as one of the best trained and best looking organizations which musical comedy has brought forth. The lavishness with which it is costumed has attracted special attention and the set with which it contributes its share to the performance has been called to the attention of the audience and the proper spirit of appreciation for the performance. McIntyre & Heath are themselves well known for their ability to entertain by impersonating the Georgian darkness. Their negro drolleries are inimitable and never fail to amuse. No production that will visit this theatre this year will be richer in mirth than this one.

On Saturday, November 3, the Fairbanks Theatre will offer one of the most winsome actresses gracing the stage, Mary Manning. Her personal beauty and charm and the bewitching quality of her acting method have secured for her approaching appearance. Miss Manning is one of the most beautiful actresses on the stage and her play this year places her in an atmosphere enhancing this attribute. "Glorious Betty" tells the story of the young American girl of Baltimore, who eloped with Prince Napoleon. Around this historical circumstance Bida Johnson Young has written one of the most enthralling and pleasing romantic plays which the public has seen many seasons. Its story moves briskly, the climaxes are intensely dramatic and the central love theme is one of rare beauty. Miss Manning in her dramatization calls into play the full wealth of her personal charm and skill and gives a most delightful impersonation.

Don't forget the oratorical contest, Friday evening, November 1, Admission 25 cents.

BETRAYAL OF HIS CHURCH.

The gang candidate for mayor had to square himself with the church vote which he and the drugstore crowd are to "work". The gang expects to purchase the floating vote and will use the church and the candidate's standing to get the other class. This was planned some weeks ago and comes from headquarters direct.

J. H. Wolford, the candidate on the Citizens' ticket for mayor was attacked in the gang organ last week in that he has no standing with the church. During the thirty years he lived here he has been doing business for the public. Has lived an upright, honest career, without a charge in all this time. He has served in the same capacity to which he is called in this campaign and never a word was uttered against him. He has been the same to all men, irrespective of race or social standing.

In the bond issue fight for a school house Mr. Wolford took a decided stand against the measure. His speech at the mass meeting evidently stirred the public against the issue. Politicians became enraged that very night and condemned his course. Fortunately the people were with him and against the apparent sight of "the ill gotten gain".

It must be remembered that Judas Wright is a member of the very board and one of the prime movers in the $30,000 attempted steal. He now has the opportunity of his life in repaying his challenger the above compliment as being against the church.

Judas favors the church, the saloon drugstore and all the elements that go with a corrupt political ring. He favors the church to the extent that he was willing to lay aside the sacred obligation taken when he was admitted to enter a local "secret society". He was well aware that the rules of his church were openly against secret orders, yet he asked admission. What was the result? He was classed as "undesirable" and "black-balled". Has man ever yet practiced such brazen hypocrisy? Denied admission to an organization he must oppose if the rules of the church are obeyed.

And one thing more, Judas Wright is a resident of Cedarville, who comes before the public unpledged to shield or protect any one man.

A STATEMENT.

It has been reported for the past few days that if I am elected township trustee I will oppose moving the library into the new building. I wish to deny this report most emphatically and say that it has been circulated from a political standpoint.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1907.

Put your X in the circle over the Citizens' ticket.

Remember when you are voting for members of council you want men that will be worthy of their hire.
A official that shirks his duty in order that he can get the extra two dollars is not worthy of the hire.

Will a persistent violator of the gambling and liquor laws support a candidate for mayor that stands for law enforcement? Does it not seem as if the drugstore proprietor was attempting to "work" the church vote through his intimate friend, Judas Wright?

The election of the proper men for school board means much to our schools which have at the present time become a part of the political machine. When it comes to teachers being selected in a back room of a drugstore, isn't it time to make a change?

The public is well aware of what kind of a tax rate was paid during the time Wolford was mayor. Efforts to diffuse the public mind to cover up wrong doings of the present administration will not keep the tax payers and renters from forgetting the $3.16 rate.

The law provides for changing the text books every five years. The local school board has changed twice in succession. The day laborer knows what the cost has been.
Had there not been changes Andy Jackson would have been short on the book graft.

Those who have paid taxes during Wolford's previous administration and who have paid the $3.16 rate cannot be convinced by argument that a continuance of the present drugstore policy is the thing. A free and unbound village government is demanded.

If the tax payers did not get a "Dollar's Worth of Government for a Dollar's Worth of Taxes" during Wolford's time as mayor of the village with tax rates from $2.44 to $2.73, what have they received with paying the $3.16 rate? The people want results and to make their case plausible the "gang" organ tries to cover up anything that will cause a comparison of tax rates.

Mayor McFarland won the enmity of C. M. Ridgway for sending a boot-legger to the work house. For this he was denied a place on the primary ticket. Can it be possible that Ridgway will use all his influence for a candidate that has come out so strong for law enforcement.
Will Mr. Wright deny that the drugstore influence is to be used for any other candidate for mayor?

The drugstore was not the scene of the political caucus last Sabbath.
It was held at the Andrew Bros.
office from the hours of two to four.
Those who reside in the neighborhood saw the whole proceedings and just who were there. Our statement of course will be denied by Judas

Wright but he was there just the Check the school book graft. Laboring men are being held up each fall by the change of books in order that Andrew Jackson can get his per cent. The school district is furnishing the money for him to do business. The election of Dr. E. C.

Oglesbee and J. B. Hastings will place this institution in the hands of the people and not politicians who are milking graft each year at the tax payers' expense.

The state legislature at the last session divorced municipal and township elections from county and state elections from the fact that the dominant parties had become corrupt and local situations had caused a loss of interest in the selection of other officials. Partisan politics was to be eliminated and the best men chosen for office. It is not an issue of tariff revision, election of a representative to state or nation legislatures but the choice of men who will safeguard public interests by keeping the tentacles of bossism from the public funds.

Elsewhere in this issue Mr. St.
John makes a statement over his own signature denying the report as false. The whole affair was manufactured out of whole cloth for the mere purpose of doing Mr.
St. John injury in the campaign.
The drugstore crowd have found the public arrayed in this campaign against them and underhanded methods have been resorted to. In fact candidates on the Citizens' ticket have been appealed to withdraw by representatives of the gang.
Argument, threats and intimidation have had no effect.

A prominent tax payer stated to the Herald last Saturday that he had looked up his tax receipts and found that during the Wolford administration the taxes to be about as published. He stated that a Wright supporter had tried to show him points against the election of Wolford. During the argument the tax question came up in which the rates as published in the Herald were referred to. The Wright supporter claimed the figures as lies and misrepresentations. He refused to be shown the tax rates from the different receipts taken from the county treasurer.

The story of J. H. Wolford not being connected with the church reacted the very minute it appeared in the gang organ. Church people who have known the Citizens' candidate for years openly rebuked the drugstore method of campaign argument. One man who is high up in church circles stated that he was one that would not be "worked" and would support Mr. Wolford in every way possible. He stated that "Wolford was not a Wolf in sheep's clothing," nor a man of deceit, but always found in the open with all his transactions. He had never been charged with double dealing with the forces of evil and good and did not have the backing or represent a class of men that are continually needing protection at the hands of the law." No truer statement has ever been made. J. H. Wol-ford is being opposed by that class.

The Herald stated in our issue of October 18 that Judas Wright had been in a political conference at the saloon drugstore on Sabbath evening, October 13. The denial in the Ridgway organ last week does not prove our statement was false. Why didn't Judas furnish some evidence to back up his claim? Why did he not make an affidavit to this effect?
Even were the statement false, will Judas deny that he has not been in the habit of meeting with the Andrew-Ridgway-Jackson gang in the pink tea room of the saloon drugstore on Sabbath afternoons or evenings? We defy any man to deny the charge. Will Judas state where he was Sabbath afternoon, October 27, and what subject was discussed? Did you not meet with three or four other candidates at Andrew Bros. office? Have you the nerve to deny this statement?

The present council never failed to take advantage of the second meeting a month as there was $2.00 a night in it for them. Every way possible was devised by J. H. Andrew to get this extra money off the corporation. The meeting seldom, if ever, began on time from the fact that Andrew was busy playing pool while the people were paying him
$2.00 a night for his time. Marshal Grindle has been sent after him dozens of times while the rest of the body was patiently waiting. He never appeared until he had finished playing pool. By this time it was late and the business could not be finished. An adjournment was necessary for two reasons: first, to finish the business; second, to get the extra two dollars. Has this been business methods? Would Mr.
Andrew hire a man to shovel coal at his scoop-shovel elevator on such a basis? Laboring men say that Mr. Andrew holds his watch on them if they stop ten minutes. Will the public hold the watch on the grafting councilman?

Little Explanation Is Necessary.

The editor of the gang organ after hunting for three or four days to find a charge against J. H. Wolford, the people's candidate for mayor, found what he thought a switching of funds during Wolford's previous administration.

The gang editor not having been a resident of the state long enough to know what took place a few years ago tried to make a great ado about the sale of three bonds of $200 each to defray the expense of the small pox epidemic.

About the year 1900 the village was visited with a small pox scare and for a time a number of families were under quarantine. Besides there had to be watchmen and other necessary expense. As the money for conducting municipal government is levied a year ahead and no one knew that we were to have small pox, there was no great amount ever carried in the health fund. This is true today with the present administration. Should an epidemic strike town there would be funds in no great amount to meet the expense.

To do this certificates of indebtedness or bonds must be issued as was done in 1900 when $200 in bonds were sold.

At that time before bonds were sold an enabling act had to be passed by the legislature. This required several weeks time getting the bill through the two houses. The debts were due and had to be paid and the money was taken from the general fund. In those days money could be transferred from one fund to another at any meeting. It cannot be done under the new law, which shows that Judas has not been a resident of the state long enough to be familiar with the duties of a public office. Indiana law does not go in the Buckeye state.

After the act passed the legislature the bonds were sold and the money transferred to the light and general funds, which was perfectly proper. The debts having been paid from the general fund $200 was returned and $200 put in the light fund. It mattered not where the money was placed as all funds could have been supplied from the sale of bonds. The legislature gave council power to sell bonds to the amount of $1000 but only $200 was needed.

With all the fuss attempted over the question Judas had not the courage to state but that the money went into proper channels where the public received some benefit from it. Mayor McFarland was familiar with all the transactions.

When J. H. Wolford entered the office as mayor there was a bonded indebtedness of over $3,000 besides a number of certificates of indebtedness. One of the first things he had to do was to place the finances of the corporation on a business basis or the tax payers would have been carrying a heavy burden.

Every tax payer is aware of what rate he paid during the time Wolford was mayor. When he left the office the bonded indebtedness had been reduced to $1000 on a tax rate far below what it was this past year and the village out of debt as the gangsters have cried.

The money had been levied to lift the $1,000 bond and did not increase the rate. Then came a change of administrations. The gang was walking into power. Then what? The $1000 was paid by money levied during Wolford's time and the hue and cry went up that the gang had freed the corporation from debt.

At that time the tax rate was only $2.52, why did the gang not keep it down? Why this continual rise each year until it reached $3.18? Has the gang organ ever told the public why?

A CAMPFIRE TALK.

The following poem was read by the author at a reunion of the 10th Ohio Battery held at Springfield, Ohio, October 2d.

We publish it at the request of members of that association.

Turn back the leaves of history To the days of sixty-one,

When the firing on Fort Sumpter Proclaimed the war begun.

A war where off a brother Became a brother's foe

And son and father met in strife, For freedom's weal or woe.

Our dear old flag insulted, Robbed of her brightest stars,

A union bought with precious blood Poured out in other wars.

Golden rod and sweet Magnolia Alike were drenched with tears

Wives, mothers, sisters, sweethearts Watched and wept for darkest years.

We read of grand achievements Of generals great and brave,

Who led their men to victory The union cause to save.

But through your wealth of memories Old veterans, only you Know well the joys and trials Of the boys who wore the blue.

You recall the rolling drum-beat The life sharp, piercing air

Recurring scenes, the drill, the camp, Excitement everywhere.

Good-bye old home and loved ones I may ne'er see you more,

Good-bye green fields and shady woods I've rambled o'er and o'er.

You answered to your country's call To face the cannon's mouth

To heal the dissolution breach Between the North and South.

Hot times my boys at Corinth, Hot times at Nickajack,

From Vicksburg to Atlanta Did you think you'd o'er get back?

'Twas worth the siege of Vicksburg To stand upon its crest

And look o'er green prairies, That stretch out to the west.

Allanta to the southward Where the Chattahoochee flows

Through the sunny land of Dixie Down where the cotton grows.

We could see the battle raging Down at Altona Pass

That Sherman with a smiling face Was watching through his glass.

An ample force he'd detailed For the Yankee boys support,

Then waved to them the welcome news, "I'm coming, hold the fort."

Do comrades Zane and Randall Recall the forage scout

They took while at Iuka, Full twenty-five miles out?

How they got left at Eastport Their journey homeward, and—

The drink of milk, and the little dog Who died for Dixie's hand.

When in the negro quarters At Loudon Tennessee

Did you dance for pure amusement, Or to drown sad memory.

At Decatur, Alabama Sixty-four it seems to me

Upon the swaying pontoon bridge You crossed the Tennessee.

Who fished you in the chicken Who found the toothsome goat

Who dug the sweet potatoes Who brought in many a shoot

No soldier robbed a southerner That's but an idle tale.

No soldier burned a farmer's fence, "Just took the top most rail."

You were down there at Sweetwater At the time of Richmond's fall

One hundred rounds salute you fired To union once for all.

And to peace with all its blessings, And to home with all its joys

And to hall the grand achievements Of our union soldier boys.

But where are all those soldier boys Those sturdy cannoners?

Go search times fateful record, Inquire of passing years

One by one they're re-enlisting, One by one they're passing o'er

And we trust today they're camping On Eternity's bright shore.

March on ye weary stragglers And join your fair command

The forming now for grand review Up there in Glory Land.

Me thinks I hear the bugle sounding Battery fall in.

March on and cross the river Your last reward to win.

Familiar faces now appear Whose crowns the stars outshine

The Tenth Ohio Battery Is forming into line.

Oh what a grand review 'twould be, Could this my dream prove true

That all to roll call might respond Up there, who wore the blue.

In the brouse over yonder I fancy we shall see

The stars and stripes in glory wave In Heavens drapery.

For every union soldier Will disappointed be,

Who, on entering that city Falls—his country's flag to see.

J. E. RANDALL.

ABUNDANCE OF QUAIL.

Quails are reported as being more abundant this fall than they have been for many years. This is largely the result of protection by law, and the co-operation of farmers on trespassers. This however, to a large extent limits the enjoyment of hunting, though the farmers, as a rule, haven't any particular wish to save the rabbits. But to protect the quail which are the enemies of the insects which annoy him, he must also bar all sorts of hunters, and some of these fine days the quail flocks will make a cloud sufficient to exclude the light, as the pigeons formerly did.
